Our goal is to ensure that you feel fully informed about the account options available to you. There are important considerations you should take into account when deciding which type of service best serves your investment goals and needs. LEGAL AND DISCIPLINARY EVENTS

Your financial advisor has no legal or disciplinary events required to be disclosed in response to this item. There may be items that are contained on brokercheck.finra.org or www.adviserinfo.sec.gov that you may wish to review and consider in your evaluation of your advisor's background.

OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

I am also a registered representative with LPL Financial, a registered broker/dealer and member of FINRA. In such capacity, I may sell securities through LPL Financial and receive normal and customary commissions as a result of such purchases and sales. The client is under no obligation to purchase or sell securities through me on a commissionable basis. In addition, I may receive other compensation such as mutual fund or money market 12b-1 fees and variable annuity trails. The potential for receipt of commissions and other compensation gives me an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on the client's needs. To address this, disclosure is made to the client at the time a brokerage account is opened through LPL Financial, identifying the nature of the transaction or relationship, the role to be played by LPL Financial and me, and any compensation (e.g., commissions, 12b-1 fees) to be paid by the client and/or received by the registered representative.

I am associated with an investment advisor that is registered separately from LPL Financial and conducts business under the name Dodds Wealth Management Group. In such capacity, I provide investment advice for a fee separate and apart from the investment advisory services offered through LPL Financial. Prior to receiving investment advice through this separate entity, client would be required to enter into an agreement with Dodds Wealth Management Group.

I am also an insurance agent. In such capacity, I may offer fixed and variable life insurance products and receive normal and customary commissions as a result of any purchases made by clients. The client is under no obligation to purchase fixed or variable life insurance through me on a commissionable basis. In addition, I may receive other compensation such as fixed or variable life trails. The potential for receipt of commissions and other compensation gives me an incentive to recommend insurance products based on the compensation received, rather than on the client's needs. To address this, disclosure is made to the client at the time purchase is made, identifying the nature of the transaction or relationship, the role to be played by me, and any compensation (e.g., commissions, trails) to be paid by the client and/or received by the insurance agent.

ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

Your financial advisor may receive economic benefits from persons other than clients in connection with advisory services. Please ask your financial advisor about whether he or she receives any of the forms of additional compensation outlined below.

If your financial advisor provides services in a Strategic Asset Management (SAM) or Strategic Asset Management II (SAM II) account, your financial advisor may recommend mutual funds. Only no-load and load-waived mutual funds are available to be purchased in SAM/SAM II accounts. However, some of these mutual funds may pay LPL Financial distribution or service fees (e.g., 12b-1 fees). For retirement accounts, such fees received by LPL Financial are credited to your account. In non-retirement accounts, LPL Financial may share a portion of these fees with your financial advisor. The receipt of 12b-1 fees may present a conflict of interest because it may give an incentive to recommend mutual funds for non-retirement SAM/SAM II accounts based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs. However, when your financial advisor provides investment advisory services, he or she is a fiduciary under the Investment Advisers Act and has a duty to act in your best interest and to make full and fair disclosure to you of all material facts and conflicts of interest.

Your financial advisor may receive compensation from product sponsors. Compensation may include such items as gifts valued at less than $100 annually, an occasional dinner or ticket to a sporting event, or reimbursement in connection with educational or training events or marketing or advertising initiatives. Such compensation may not be tied to the sale of any products.

Your financial advisor receives compensation as a result of your participation in LPL advisory programs. LPL shares a portion of the account fee you pay with your financial advisor, which may be more than what your financial advisor would receive at another investment advisor firm. This compensation may also include other types of compensation, such as bonuses, awards or other things of value offered by LPL (or the bank, credit union or financial institution at which your financial advisor may be located) to your financial advisor. LPL may pay your financial advisor in different ways, such as payments based on production, awards of stock options to purchase shares of LPL's parent company, LPL Financial Holdings Inc., reimbursement of fees that your financial advisor pays to LPL for items such as administrative services, and other things of value such as free or reduced-cost marketing materials, payments in connection with the transition of association from another broker/dealer or investment advisor firm to LPL, advances of advisory fees, or attendance at LPL's national conference or top producer forums and events. LPL may pay your financial advisor this compensation based on his or her overall business production and/or on the amount of assets serviced in LPL advisory programs. Therefore, the amount of this compensation may be more than what the your financial advisor would receive if the client participated in other LPL programs, programs of other investment advisor firms or paid separately for investment advice, brokerage and other client services. Therefore, your financial advisor may have a financial incentive to recommend an advisory program over other programs and services. However, your financial advisor may only recommend a program or service that he or she believes is suitable for you.

Your financial advisor may act as a referral agent to third party investment advisor firms and he or she may receive referral compensation from such investment advisor firms. In such case, you are provided disclosure about the arrangement and the compensation to be received at the time of the referral.

SUPERVISION

LPL Financial maintains a supervisory structure and system reasonably designed to prevent violations of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. Your financial advisor's securities-related activities are supervised by an individual registered as a principal in accordance with FINRA regulations. In addition, compliance staff uses tools that monitor the advisory services provided by your financial advisor, for example, with respect to asset allocation, concentration, and account activity. Paul Middlemiss, Chief Compliance Officer - Advisory, is responsible for administering the LPL Financial policies and procedures for investment advisory activities and for regularly evaluating their effectiveness. Contact (800) 558-7567 for the name and phone number of your financial advisor's immediate supervisor or contact Advisory Compliance directly at LPLFinancial.ADV@lpl.com.
